that was the sole ground of difference between them; that the question is now, can the will of the people of Kansas he assertained? He thought Mr. Douglas in error in saying that the Lecompto Constitution was the creation of the Territorial Legislature, and he shought that from that error had probably arisen all his subsequent errors upon that subset. How was it no stills that the Constitution could be the greature of the Territorial Legislature? The Convention was an assembling of the people, in their highest sovereign capacity, about to perform the highest act of sovereignty. The Territorial Legislature was a mere provisional government, a petty corporation, appointed and mad by Congress, without a particle of sovereign power, and therefore could not interfere with sovereignty, philosoph had sovereignty was still laviouste. Congress could not interfere with the Convention it could not confer anon the legislative power to interfere with it. For Congress is not sovereign, it has no power to act outside of the instruction of the Constitution. He then proceeded to argue that the Lecompton Constitution of the confidence of the instruction of the Constitution of the Constitution of the Constitution of the Constitution of the States had a numerical majority.

Pierce Fight over the took in the Senate.

[Special Disputch to the N.Y. Harnin.]

The Senate were in extensive session for a long time to-day, and had under consideration the confirmation of Mr. Issae Cook, the Chicago Postmaster. Senator Douglas opened the ball against him, and attacked right and left. The Little Giant was perfectly furfacts. He charged him with all sures of wines, none of which, however, will stand fire. Senator Fitch ship defended Cook from the charges made by Mr. Douglas, and I understand handled the Little Giant rather roughly. Without coming to any vete, offer a live hours mession, the Senate adjourned. The friends of the Administration could easily have confirmed the semination of Cook, but Judge Douglas declared on his word of honor that Cook was personally and politically disbonest, and a man of neither the ability use character for any position under the government. Under these circumstances the nemination was permitted to lie over, so as to investigate their truth. It is very possible Mr. Douglas' friends may endeaver to induce the bellef that this postponement is an evidence of a want of support to adopt towards the Douglas office holders; but such is not the first. The postponement was simply in consequence of the grave personal charges penferred by Judge Douglas and his friends with the Administration and in the Senate. Cook was formerly Postmaster of Ohicago, appointed in 1535 at the leasures of Judge Douglas and his friends the position of Judge Douglas and his friends his first who is removed, and hence the hister chagin of the with Mr. Pouglas in his defection from the Democratic party, but is a firm Administration man; hence his nomination over Price, who is removed, and hence the hister chagin of Douglas How are the mighty fallen! Judge Douglas' influence is gone.

Uncanner Missons.—In New York State-Cook is not with Mr. Douglas in New York State-Chagnin of Douglas Indeed his party.

Insuperive travel and cry alond—it is natural enough that this congiumerate brotherhood should pig together in the same sty. But it is worthy of "especial wonder" that Democrats should be found to vote persistently with them to defeat the measures of the Administration, and in the attempt to force upon it is measure and a policy which would only emberroes it, and which was intended by the majority of its apporters to embaryane it.

The was friends of the Administration measure did wisely and nobly in killing the measure did wisely and nobly in killing the measure did wisely and nobly in killing the measure did wisely and another is killing the measure which spunns from the leving embassions of the Administration measure which spunns from the leving embassions of the administration measure which spunns from the leving embassions of the contract which may be responsibility of the disasters which may belle and the contract which may be the contract of the contrac

By a veriprocal arrangement with the various railread companies in the Northwest, many increased facilities for the comfort of passen gas and the sale and expeditions transportation of freight have been attained, while the rates of fare and the time of passage are substantially the same as last year. During the coming season a daily line of first class steamers, built expressly for a company incorporated at the last seesion of the Missouri Legilisture, will ply between Jefferson City and St. Joe.—To onlice further up the Missouri River than the line extended hast year. These steamers are, with one exception, onlirely new, and were constructed at a cost of $210,000. By this line the United Ptates mail and government about and stores are carried by southers.
